What is the Love That Stays?	Our Response to the Love That Stays	Loving Others with the Love That Stays	Loving Ourselves with the Love That Stays	Living a Love That Stays
Personal Reflections  What does a "lavish love" feel like to you? When have you struggled to believe that God's love stays? What would change if you fully believed God loves you?	Personal Reflections  In what areas do I need to surrender control? How is God calling me to obey today? What would it look like to see His kingdom in my art?	Personal Reflections  Who in my life needs a love that stays? How can I protect or trust someone this week? Who makes me feel loved? Why?	Personal Reflections  What do I struggle to believe about myself that God fully accepts and loves? What does it mean to let Christ live in me? How can I show love to myself?	Personal Reflections  What part of this week impacted me most? Why? What can I do regularly to stay rooted in God's love? How does creativity help me live in a love that stays?
Faith Art Journal Prompts  Create a water color background that represents grace. Use Scripture cut-outs or hand letter I John 3:1. Overlay the words "Child of God" or "Lavished in Love."	Faith Art Journal Prompts  Use a stencil to create a layer over a background. Stencil a word prominently on a page. Include keywords from today's Scripture--handwritten, typed, or collaged)	Faith Art Journal Prompts  Go beyond the obvious (hearts) and find a stamp that says love to you. Create a background with overlapping stamped textures. Add ink splashes to illustrate how messy love can be.	Faith Art Journal Prompts  Use paint, paper scraps, fabric, stickers, ink, etc., to build a journal page. Collage broken pieces (mosaic?) into a beautiful page. What do the words "search," "test," and "lead" look like?	Faith Art Journal Prompts  Create a Mind Map of ideas and tools you will use in your art. Include tiny envelopes, flaps, or fold-outs with hidden prayers in your journal. Revisit a favorite medium.
